Removing Blocks and Healing through EFT

EFT (Emotional Freedom Technique), or what is termed "acupressure for emotion," is so effective that it can literally transform one's life from one of 'fear from love' to one of 'embracing love'. In Dr. Landrith's practice, he has seen lifelong fears and traumas that have resisted years of therapy and energy work, completely healed within a few weeks of learning this technique. By tapping on these points what you do is clear out all the blocks, so that the energy flows in such a way that we feel like we are on top of the world or what is termed "being in a zone." We now can feel great and be at our best, no matter what the situation!
